

IT Consultant EMEA

Core responsibilities:

Reporting to the EMEA Professional Services Manager, you will accompany our European customers in integrating Pertinence Suite, the Intercim Solution, within their own IT applications.

The role of the IT consultant consists of ensuring that the architecture proposed meets the needs of the client in terms of performance, interfacing with the other systems and internal technical policies.

You will also participate to the presales process in order to demonstrate to our potential customers the value of our architecture and gather its technical specificities.

You will participate actively to the formalization of the best practices and knowhow of the consulting team and be often in contact with our Product team to feedback to it the customer's requirements and needs and promote to the customers the new product features.

Qualifications and skills:

- Engineer with 3 to 5 years of experience
- Experience in implementing and integrating software in large account IT environment
- Standard IT skills (DBA, XML, XSL, HTML, Web services IIS, Microsoft .NET)
- Industry and industrial processes knowledge
- Fluent in English, already practiced on a professional environment
- Dynamic, autonomous, motivated, ready to learn and open minded, good communication skills and listening

Salary/Benefits : Salary commensurate with experience

Job location: Paris, business trips in France and Europe